Local Wisdom, Summer Inspirations

If you're in town these next few Sundays, please be sure and come to worship. Not only will there be vacationing visitors to welcome warmly, but some of our own members will be sharing their own special wisdom as guest preachers.

(July 13) Dianne Brookins (single mom Honolulu attorney) believes that "God will not test us beyond our endurance." In her life experience she connects the Apostle Paul's words "we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame" (Romans 5:3-5) and the 19th century philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche "What does not destroy me, makes me stronger." Should be interesting!

(July 20) Bob Grantham (great grandpa retired insurance executive) writes "If we cannot wash the feet of our loved ones, friends or neighbors, how then can we treat them in a similar manner in today's society. Jesus washed the feet of his disciples in an act of great humility. Can we duplicate this? Should we duplicate this?" Should we wear flip flops that Sunday? He doesn't say.

(July 27) Mary Paik (she and Dwight Morita were CCU's 2007 Renewal Pastors and newlyweds) will bring her own special energy, earnestness and mirth to the pulpit. With Mary, just about anything—is possible.

(August 3) Paul Belanger (decent guy and director of Navy Relief) says we can't change the cards we're dealt, or maybe even how we feel about the hand, but we can choose how we play it out. We have choices: about values, goals and actions. He's probably speaking metaphorically. You think?

(August 10) Bill Muench (Chair of the Pastor Nominating Committee that called me) will be talking about church service and some of the feelings we naturally have when God puts a need before us. His sermon title is "A Certain Calling."

Look at what I'm going to miss! Yikes. Please be there for me. Welcome one another. Soak up the local wisdom. Have a great July and August.

Blessings and more later, Buddy

CCU is a creative community making a difference in social justice, community development and spiritual development.

We are currently engaged in a multi-year Revitalization Strategy. We are currently doing new work in three areas: Developing a culture of Personal Invitation (developing skills and tools in support of personal sharing of the way we experience and practice the Christian faith), Putting our Lamp on a Hill (creating a highly interactive web presence and developing a comprehensive public relations program), and Developing an Intriguing and Inviting Campus (repairing the leaky roof, developing the landscaping and signage, creating inviting exhibits to encourage our many weekday campus visitors to return for faith community activities.)

New fence encloses Seagull Schools' newly designed playground and landscaping.

CCU BOOKMARKS . . . available at the Greeters' Podium . . . This beautiful, earth-friendly bookmark was designed by Elder Beth Davidann (Thank you, Beth!) and is available for everyone's use. Pick a few up and share with your friends; bookmark gives a visual & word picture of CCU.

TAIZE POSTCARDS . . . Available at the Greeters' Podium . . . Do you have someone who you believe would appreciate this style of worship experience? Please give him a personal invitation via this postcard.

(Thank you, Buddy, for designing this invitation postcard!)

More than 1 billion people have inadequate access to safe drinking water, and 2.6 billion lack access to adequate sanitation.

UNITED NATIONS HUMAN DEVELOPMENT REPORT, 2006

FRACTION OF POPULATION WITH ACCESS TO CLEAN WATER:

United States	100 percent
Haiti	71 percent
Romania	57 percent
Laos	43 percent
Papua New Guinea	39 percent
Chad	34 percent

2002 statistics, reported by the World Health Organization and UNICEF in 2004

CCU has sent $500 of Pres. Ch. (USA) basic mission funds to Clean Water U.
(selected by Rosemary Allen)

- Living Waters for the World is a ministry of the Synod of the Living Waters, Franklin, TN. Its mission is to train and equip mission teams to share the gift of clean, sustainable water with communities in need.
- Clean Water U is a 5-day training program sponsored by Living Waters for the World and held at Camp Hopewell (affiliated with the Presbytery of St. Andrew), near Oxford, MS. The program has steadily expanded since its first training session in March 2004, and six sessions are scheduled for 2008.
- The training includes three classes: (101) Leadership development; how to establish a covenant with an overseas community where the water system will be built; (102) health and hygiene; helping people who have had little access to clean water in the past understand how to use it; (103) construction, installation and maintenance of the treatment system.
- Clean Water U graduates: More than 500 people from 30 states and 9 countries, including members of the Catholic Church and 9 Protestant denominations. Approximately 70% are members of the PC (USA).
- As of March 2008, graduates of Clean Water U had installed 178 water-treatment systems in 19 countries, including Guatemala, Kenya, Bolivia, Haiti, Ghana, Honduras and Nicaragua.

CCU to send $500 of Disciples basic mission funds to Academia del Pueblo (ADP) Program at Eastmont Community Center.
(selected by Melissa Belanger)

Selected as The Disciples of Christ Pacific Southwest Region Women's Ministries 2008 Mission Service Project, the ADP program offers after school homework assistance to children in grades 1 through 3. The focus is on reading and math skills. The program relies solely on donations for funding.

Melissa Belanger, having worked with children with special needs for eight years, says, "I can appreciate how life changing it can be for children to get help at this young age. Success in school can significantly build self esteem and foster a positive attitude toward life long learning."

The Eastmont Community Center is a nonprofit organization which was established by the Disciples of Christ and the surrounding community. Since 1968, it has provided social and educational services in East Los Angeles. The services range from urgent assistance to families in crisis to social activities for senior citizens.

REMEMBER: Anyone can add to the monies to be sent to the selected projects/ programs by making a contribution to CCU and noting on the check the particular project/program you would like to support.

Interpreting the actions of the 218th General Assembly

To Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) congregations:

Grace and peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

The 218th General Assembly adjourned just a few short hours ago. Even now, 973 commissioners and advisory delegates are making their way back home from San Jose, CA., where they worshiped daily, discussed and debated overtures and celebrated the countless ways Presbyterians are engaged in ministry near and very far away - all with a focus on discerning the mind of Christ for the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and seeking ways to live out this assembly's theme: "Do justice, love kindness, walk humbly with our God" (Micah 6:8).

Beginning today and continuing over the next two years, elected commissioners will be about the task of interpreting the actions they took at this assembly. Already, their decisions have been broadcast across the church and, in this Internet world - with information received in real time, live blogs, and more - many people have already weighed in on the assembly's actions, sharing their thoughts and feelings about the implications of those decisions on our life together in the PC (USA).

The assembly dealt with well over 400 business items. Some items had undivided agreement, including a covenant to join together to carry out mission together and a church wide commitment to "Grow God's Church Deep and Wide." There was an action to continue to study a revised Form of Government, and one committee devoted its time entirely to youth issues. In addition, we continued our longstanding work toward peace in the Middle East. More information on these and other actions will be coming soon.

A few of the many assembly actions will make, or already have made, headlines across the country. Most likely, you will read about the actions from a number of sources over the next many days and weeks, but we want you to hear about this important gathering directly from the General Assembly. That is why we are writing this letter to you.

Perhaps the subject that will make the most headlines has to do with the ordination standards of our church. It is a subject with which Presbyterians are familiar and one that tends to evoke great debates and deep emotions. With that in mind, we want you to know what the assembly did - in the actual wording - in regard to ordination standards, and what will happen next.

By a 54 percent to 46 percent margin, the assembly voted to propose an amendment to our Book of Order to change one of our current ordination standards. The change is to replace the current language that says officers of the church must live by "fidelity within the covenant of marriage between a man and a woman or chastity in singleness" (G-6.0106b) to this new language: "Those who are called to ordained service in the church, by their assent to the constitutional questions for ordination and installation (W-4.4003), pledge themselves to live lives obedient to Jesus Christ the Head of the Church, striving to follow where he leads through the witness of the Scriptures, and to understand the Scriptures through the instruction of the Confessions. In so doing, they declare their fidelity to the standards of the Church. Each governing body charged with examination for ordination and/or installation (G-14.0240 and G-14.0450) establishes the candidate's sincere efforts to adhere to these standards."

By a 53 percent to 47 percent vote, the assembly adopted a new Authoritative Interpretation (AI) on G-6.0106b: Interpretive statements concerning ordained service of homosexual church members by the 190th General Assembly (1978) of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and the 119th General Assembly (1979) of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and all subsequent affirmations thereof, have no further force or effect.

By a 54 percent to 46 percent vote, the assembly adopted a new AI on G-6.0108 which restores the intent of the Theological Task Force on Peace, Unity, and Purity of the Church report (2006) to allow someone who is being considered for ordination or installation as a deacon, elder or minister to register a conscientious objection to the standards or beliefs of the church and ask the ordaining body to enter into a conversation with them to determine the seriousness of the departure.

The assembly left unchanged the definition of marriage found in the Directory for Worship (W-4.9000) - "a civil contract between a woman and a man."

By its actions, the assembly has initiated a new opportunity to focus ordination on primary allegiance and obedience to Jesus Christ, as well as to Scripture and the church's confessions. The assembly places the responsibility onto sessions and presbyteries for discerning a candidate's fitness for ordination.

In all of this, it is important to note that the assembly has not removed the church's standard of "fidelity in marriage and chastity in singleness." For the proposed change - making obedience to Christ the ordination standard - to become part of the Book of Order, a majority of presbyteries will need to ratify it over the next year.

We know the assembly actions may do little to ease the anxiety that seems to permeate our life together as a denomination. The debate isn't new and the future holds difficult challenges. As the Rev. Dan Holloway, moderator of the committee that took up the items on ordination standards, said, "As we move forward, it is essential that we have conversations that are gracious and loving and welcoming, since we are not all of one mind." Our hope is that none of us will act or react immediately to the decisions, choosing instead to pray and talk with one another about these issues.

Memories

by Rosemary Allen

A recent Sunday congregation at CCU evoked a series of memories for me. First of all a pastoral interview with two tall & fine-looking teenagers struck memories of not so many years ago when Eli Davidann & Scott Peters were “little” boys in our church school classes upstairs—and their mothers Beth & Chandra were Sunday teachers.

Later that day I learned that Eli (with his parents) plans to travel in Europe this summer. Part of Scott’s summer will be in Washington DC where he will attend an inter-faith forum along with Hawaii youth representing Jewish & Buddhist congregations. Hopefully, we will hear some of Scott’s & Eli’s own summer memories in the fall.

Just in front of me in the “pews” that day (June 22) was the gathering of Granthams with their daughter Joy & her three grown sons visiting here from New Jersey. Also there were grandchildren Jarryd & Angyl Magbee & their dad Ty. Jarryd & Angyl were among our younger Sunday “school” students a few years ago but now are moving along in their older elementary years in Kailua.

Steve Muench was in that congregation, too—with wife Yvonne and active 14-month-old son Hadden—visiting grandparents Jane & Bill from their home in Seattle. I later recalled the years (70s & 80s) when Steve was a lively part of our classes & events for children & youth—along with others including Mike & Cathy Haring, Deborah Tchou & Jeremy Allen. During some of those years the Cooper children were in those classes, too. Their father Bob was visiting here on that same Sunday—from his present home in Hilo. (Bob was one of the early session members at CCU in the Presbyterian & then merger years.)

Another visitor on June 22nd was Hilde Gant, now a doctor in California, but back in the '70s was an AFS exchange student from Norway attending Kailua High School. Hilde lived with the Snipes family while here & joined the other Snipes daughters at Kailua High School. The American Field Service exchange program began with the energetic interest of our then-pastor’s wife, Harriet Studer, who helped found AFS chapters at both Kailua & Kalaheo High Schools from which both local & foreign students have benefited. (My son Jon was one of them, spending a summer in Columbia & retaining connections to this day.)

That day also found Chris Medeiros back with us after his school year in France. And sister Kalia told us she’ll act as Dorothy in the “Wizard of Oz” next month at Diamond Head Theater.

So it seems as though many memories—remarkable & lasting, hopefully—will be ahead this summer, too!

About Presbyterians

by Rosemary Allen

Our PCUSA 218th General Assembly in San Jose, CA opened on June 21st with election of a new moderator who will head our denomination for the next two years. He is Bruce Reyes-Chow, pastor of 150-member Mission Bay Community Church and part of San Francisco Presbytery.

The update info from General Assembly describes Reyes-Chow’s approach to leadership as “self-consciously non-traditional.” He is described as interested in web technology that “enables innovative social networking” and has a “relaxed” style of ministry with a sense of humor which was shown as he replied to the questions asked by G. A. commissioners. Sounds like an interesting two years ahead—maybe he’ll make a Hawaii visit!

After the moderator is elected, he presides over the remaining sessions of G. A. These include all the business brought by commissioners. These come from presbyteries all over the USA & include a wide variety of concerns. We will be receiving news of these during the coming weeks—& months. And our own CCU council (session) will undoubtedly be pondering some of the questions & recommendations decided in San Jose.

During the question-and-answer time for the Stated Clerk election on Friday morning, now Stated Clerk-elect Gradye Parsons spoke of the story of Jesus being in the boat with his disciples in the middle of the lake when a storm arose (Luke 8). If fear could have capsized their boat, the disciples would have found themselves working hard to tread water in the midst of the wind and waves. Yet, Jesus calmed the storm and proceeded to question them about their faith.

Like the disciples, we, the PC(USA), are in the boat together, sometimes not altogether sure where we are headed. We see the storm approaching and our fears rise with the waves. Yet, as he was with the disciples, so, too, is Christ in our midst - calming the wind, settling the waves - being present and guiding us as we proceed ahead.

Gradye offered the following mantra as a summary of the Luke story: Get into the boat. Go across the lake. There will be a storm. You will not die.

As we move forward from this assembly, we know that storms may come, but we put our confidence and trust in the one who both calms the storms and leads us into God’s future with hope.

Moderator of the 218th General Assembly
Elder Linda Bryant Valentine
